

Subject line:

Wataha: A tense Polish thriller about an elite border unit on the Polish-Ukrainian border

Mailing (1,571 characters):

We are writing to you today to offer you the HBO Europe thriller series “Wataha”. First released in 2014 and set on the Polish-Ukrainian border, “Wataha” is now more relevant than ever.

“Wataha” gives viewers a distinctive insight into the realities of life on the precipice of the EU border, offering a rare glimpse into the stories of people crossing it and the kinds of obstacles they face.

Against the stunning yet gritty backdrop of the dense forests of the Bieszczady Mountains, a team of border guards work tirelessly to protect the EU’s outer limits. After a bomb attack killed his entire border control unit, Captain Wiktor Rebrow is the sole survivor and is determined to find the mastermind behind the bombing. But prosecutor Iga Dobosz, leading the official investigation into the attack, has Rebrow down as her prime suspect. While trying to find his place in the newly formed unit, Rebrow soon realises that it’s not just physical boundaries that have been crossed.

“Wataha”, with its completely unique setting on the Polish-Ukrainian border, became the most-watched show on HBO Poland and has been subsequently broadcasted by TV stations and streaming services such as Amazon, Globi, GSN UK and North America, HBO Nordics, iTunes, Lumiere, MDR Germany, SBS Australia, Sky Germany and Yle Finland.

Season one and two are both available for purchase from ZDF Studios, with each season containing six episodes averaging at 40 minutes in length. If you would like to find out more about this unique and poignant series, please contact...

Best regards,

ZDF Studios