Adapted from the highly acclaimed Swedish series “Innan vi dör”, this thriller was a streaming phenomenon with an incredible 12 million streamers, 84% viewer retention from episode one to season one's final episode and airing internationally in countries including Australia, Israel, New Zealand and the US.

At the forefront of “Before We Die” are two matriarchs battling for supremacy: Detective Hannah Laing, a woman determined to fight corruption; and her antagonist Dubravka, the figurehead of the Mimica crime family and mother of Bianca, the lover of Hannah's son. Hannah is fighting for redemption, Dubravka for revenge. But both women will ultimately pay a high price for what they want.

After the shooting of the head of the Mimica family, Hannah and Billy continue collecting evidence that could reveal the extent of the corruption in Police HQ. But Hannah discovers that this fight spares no one, not even those she loves. Meanwhile, abducted from her hideout in Costa Rica and taken back to the UK in a container on board a ship, pregnant Bianca must find a way to escape her mother's clutches who intends to force her to miscarry her baby. Christian tries desperately to track her down, unaware that Dubravka's goons are close at his heels. As the future balances on a knife-edge, Hannah and Bianca fight with every ounce of their strength and cunning to protect the unborn child and finally end this.
